SUPPLEMENT

1. The ASAR leaders are reported to have visited Prime Minister De Gasperi in Rome recently and discussed with him the SVP proposals for collaboration between the two autonomous provinces of Bolzano and Trentino.
2. De Gasperi told them that, according to reports he had received from Dr. Innocenti, the SVP did not really represent the South Tirolean people and suggested that the true representatives of the South Tirol would be far more amenable to a joint autonomy of the two provinces.
3. Subsequently the ASAR and SVP leaders met and discussed the situation at length, without reaching any positive agreement. The SVP leaders stressed the fact that the South Tiroleans as a whole would never agree to a joint autonomy, and pressed for an official reply to their compromise proposals. At the end of the meeting the ASAR representatives agreed to examine these compromise proposals again, and to let the SVP have their written comments on them.
